

Two lines in a plane staying the same distance apart and never crossing are

Half of a line, starting at one point and continuing straight in one direction is a

Concentric circles have the same

If angles #1 and #2 are congruent, then \overline{AC} is the

The point at the tip of an angle is called the

An angle with a measure less than 90 degrees is an angle.